

MariaCaterina La Barbera is Doctor of Human Rights at the University of Palermo, Italy. She is Professor of Human Rights and researcher Ramón y Cajal at the Department of Law of the Universidad Nebrija, Madrid. Her research covers human rights at the intersection of gender and migration. Through the critical analysis of law and public policies, its socio-legal research covers gender discrimination, interseccionalidad, cultural diversity and citizenship regimes.

Additional information at: <https://bit.ly/2LqM2EF>